Welcome back for the 2012 school year, I trust everyone has had a relaxing and well earned break. Certainly, judging by the level of excitement and anticipation displayed on day one, from both students and staff alike, many were keen to get back into the thrust of school life. A good sign!

At the end of last term I announced that there were some staff changes for this year. Mr Neville Milne is covering for Mr Steve Lovell, who has gone on Long Service Leave for term one, while in the Music Department, Joe Smallbon has been replaced by Mrs Sharon Neilson. Mr Trent Nicholls has transferred in from Mountain Heights and as from the commencement of this term Ms Jenni Maartensz’ class will be covered by Miss Prue Armstrong until Easter, when Jenni will return. Also Ms Kerryn Stokes has transferred to Penguin High as Assistant Principal. I would also like to welcome to the school, Christine Warren and ladies, who will be operating the school canteen this year.

This year marks a significant transition in Tasmanian education as we move into the implementation phase of the Australian Curriculum. Over the next 3 years the Tasmanian Curriculum will be superseded by a national focus on education. Developing an Australian Curriculum means that there will be greater consistency in the quality of learning from one state to the next and collaboration between State authorities will be enhanced. This year will see the introduction of English, Mathematics and Science. History will follow next year with the remaining learning area to be assessed and reported on in 2014.

All in all 2012 promises be an exciting and rewarding year for all those who are prepared to accept the challenges of what school life has to offer and give their best. I look forward to another successful year at Yolla and the privilege of helping shape our student’s futures.
